SUBJECT: GREEN CALIFORNIA COMMUNITY COLLEGES SUMMIT & EXPOSITION

The Green California Community Colleges Summit & Exposition is taking place on October 17 -18, 2011, at the Pasadena Convention Center, Pasadena, California. The Summit will offer a rare opportunity to learn about all aspects of greening campuses.

Carl Pope, Sierra Club executive chairman and co-chair of the newly-formed BlueGreen Alliance, will be the keynote speaker. Attendees will learn from and engage with leaders during an education program of panels and seminars – from funding and implementing renewable energy projects, green building and renovating, green job training programs and engaging students in green campus projects.

The Green California Community Colleges Summit will take place concurrently with the Green California Schools Summit, offering an opportunity for networking and exploration among educational sectors. Leadership awards will be presented in recognition of achievements in green building, energy, curriculum and other categories. The two Summits will share an Expo featuring more than 100 companies offering green products and services.

For information and to register for the summits, go to www.green-technology.org or call Brittany Soash or Cindy Dangberg at (626) 577-5700.
